

An aerial photograph of a Moroccan coastline at sunset. The sun is a bright, glowing orb in the upper right, casting a long, shimmering path of light across the turquoise ocean. The coastline is rugged, with white cliffs meeting the sea. To the left of the cliffs, the land is a mix of golden sand and patches of green vegetation. The overall atmosphere is warm and serene, with a color palette dominated by oranges, yellows, and blues.

5 Fes - Sahara Desert

Leave Fes behind, your camels await. Drive over the Middle Atlas mountains through the cedar forests and rolling hills. See Macaque monkeys and Berber horses and stop in at the small European hamlet of Ifrane, known at the “Switzerland of Morocco”. Then head south to Midelt, and on to the stunning Ziz Valley where you will see valleys and oasis filled with date palms as far as the eye can see. Berber villages and casbahs will take over the view as you head through Rissini and into Merzouga. Once there you will go off road for a bit before arriving at the base hotel (Hotel Yasmina) where you will say good bye to the car for the night and hop on your camel for a trek into your camp. If you prefer we can arrange for 4 x 4's to take you in and out. Spend the night in tents under the stars with your dinner and breakfast prepared by nomads who operate the camp.

DETAILED ITINERARY

6 Merzouga - Todgha Gorge

After making your way back to the car, you will ride through Erfoud (date capital of Morocco) and along the Valley of 1,000 Kasbahs (old and new) and drive towards Todgha Gorge. Spend some time exploring the gorge basin and marveling at the rock face (350m high). Stay in the nearby valley at Chez Pierre or similar and enjoy the traditional Berber lifestyle of the south.
